

Jan St Hilaire Friends of Boulder Knoll, Artist-in Residence

A Wallingford painter, Jan St Hilaire, has agreed to serve as the 2021 Artist-in-Residence at Boulder Knoll Community Farm in Cheshire. She will be using the farm as the base for her summer painting and offer several art experiences throughout the summer.

Painting has played an important part in Jan's life. As a child she wrote little plays, did drawings, and later painted murals on her children's bedroom walls. She started and ran a successful design business, Castle Hill Designs. Her products were wool or sisal rugs on which she painted or dyed in designs.

She has exhibited her paintings and won awards in Connecticut and Florida.

If you visit the farm, you may spot her bright pink boots and straw hat behind her easel, engaged in one of the joys of her life...trying to express the beauty and wonder all around us.
